Fun in the sun at Espee Park, 450 E. Knox Road. Find all of our great parks starting on page 78. Check out the recap of the Chandler Bike Park grand opening at Espee Park on page 77.

Welcome! Our last issue of Break Time was the biggest ever. Staff has been busy keeping up with the continuous demand. It's exciting to see the Chandler community take advantage of our diverse programming options.

We've received some terrific responses from the openings of our new bike park at Espee Park and the Playtopia playground located inside Tumbleweed Park. Be sure to also stop by our new visitors' center and changing galleries inside the newly restored McCullough-Price House, just west of Chandler Fashion Center.

The countdown continues to the opening of Chandler's first wetlands project. Veterans Oasis Park, on the northeast corner of Chandler Heights and Lindsay roads, will be an ideal backdrop for nature enthusiasts. The 113-acre facility will include a fishing lake, walking trails, natural habitats and the City's newest police substation. Stay tuned for more updates on this exciting project.

We're always looking to improve and that's why your input is so valuable to us. You are, after all, our biggest stakeholder. If you have an idea for programming or an opinion about your experiences with Community Services staff or facilities, I encourage you to send us your feedback on-line at breaktime@chandleraz.gov. It's another tool to help us gauge what's working for you.

I hope you enjoy this issue of Break Time Magazine, and all it has to offer. Again, it is with great pride that we deliver these services and amenities to you.

Sincerely,

Boyd W. Dunn
